H.S.T. Asks Southern Demos Back Into Fold

Says Demo Party Is Not Sectional

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—President Truman tonight invited dissident Southern Democrats to return to the party fold.

In a fighting speech to the Democratic National Committee, which earlier had purged from its rolls five Southern supporters of the states rights candidates of 1948, the president said the party was never in better condition to "carry the battle to the foe" in 1950.

The president reminded his cheering audience that he won his election last year without New York, without the industrial east, and without the "solid South." He said he was "prouder of that" than anything that occurred in the campaign.

No Longer Sectional
But he invited those who bolted from him to "join the party of the people" which he said is "no longer" a sectional party with "the tail wagging the dog."

Speaking in a manner reminiscent of his "give 'em hell" election campaign, the president said that the republicans will not succeed indefinitely in their "continuous filibuster" to defeat the program embraced in the democratic platform.

He said the 1948 elections brought a number of young men of liberal tendencies into congress and that next year there would be other new ones to carry out the people's platform.

The president was introduced to the strains of "I'm Just Wild About Harry," one of the most popular tunes of his campaign.

Boyle Elected Chairman
He said he was "overwhelmed" by the way the party's situation had worked out at today's meeting at which William M. Boyle, Jr., was elected to succeed J. Howard McGrath, the new attorney general, as national chairman.

Then he lit into the republican opposition in congress immediately. He said they had carried on a continuous filibuster to defeat the platform the people indicated in 1948 they wanted carried out.

"They will not succeed," Mr. Truman said.

He went on to say that the Democratic party today is "a national party and not a sectional party" and that it won the 1948 elections without New York, without the industrial East and "without the solid South."

He made it clear he wanted those who dissented in 1948 to return to the folds—but on his own terms.

He said he wanted them to return on the basis of the platform which promised the people exactly what they are going to get.

It was the civil rights plank in that platform which led angry southerners to bolt and set up the states' rights ticket.

Besides purging five of the bolters today, the national committee also ordered the name of a sixth southerner erased from its rolls, even though he had already resigned.

Three Persons Die As Kerosene Stove Explodes In House

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 24—(AP)—Three persons were burned to death today when an exploding kerosene stove fired a small frame and shingle dwelling.

Three children escaped. Their mother, Mrs. Ruth Laver, would have survived had she not re-entered the blazing structure in a futile attempt to rescue her six-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Phyllis Burton. Both died in the flames.

The third victim was Mrs. Laver's husband, Everett, 45, a roofer who was laid off work a week ago. He was working inside the house when the stove blew up.

Those who escaped are Charles, Burton, 16; Benjamin, 11; and Barbara, 10, brothers and sisters and Phyllis.

The Laver home is in a rural section, north of Decatur, which is without public water supplies.

Reporters Given Workout On Name

London, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Indian delegate to the commonwealth relations committee arrived by air from Delhi tonight.

Admits Writing Memo Blasting B-36 Plans

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—A U.S. official was suspended today after admitting he wrote an anonymous memo darkly implying that the air force's B-36 super bomber program was a billion-dollar lemon foisted on the taxpayers by "unscrupulous" men.

The official is Cedric R. Worth, former movie script writer and newspaperman who became special assistant to undersecretary of the Navy Dan Kimball.

Less than four hours after he testified before the House armed services committee, Secretary of the Navy Matthews announced his suspension "pending further investigation."

His testimony had caused somewhat the same sensation as if a navy torpedo had boomeranged. It was considered a major round for the Air Force in its never-ending struggle with the navy for strategic bombing assignments. This was so because:

1. The memo had formed the basis for charges that the B-36 program, which is costing more than a billion dollars, resulted from political connivance between such men as

Louis A. Johnson, now secretary of defense; Floyd Odium, financier whose Atlas corporation controls the company making the B-36, and air secretary, Symington.

2. An investigation launched by the House committee has turned up testimony mostly favorable to the B-36. Generals have testified that while some officers once had doubts about it, it is now considered an extremely potent weapon, relied upon to carry the atom bomb to the enemy in case of war.

3. Secretary Johnson, Symington and others have roundly denounced the charges and said their only thought was the country's welfare. Many legislators came to the conclusion that the charges had turned out to be a dud.

For days, rumors had circulated on Capitol Hill that Worth was the author of the mysterious memo. Today Joseph Keenan, counsel to the House committee, threatened to resign unless the author were named and called to the stand. He said everybody seemed to know who wrote the paper, except the committee staff.

Johnson Slashes Military Spending

Orders 135,000 Civilian Workers Of Services Fired

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 24—(AP)—Wallace Robinson, manager of station WPKY here, said today he has stopped a local news program because the commentator made "too many attacks on city officials and the police department."

He said in a statement that the radio attacks made by James B. Rhody against the police have encouraged activity "by petty thieves and delinquents."

Lock Up Installations
The locking up of 50 installations, ranging from navy yards to recruit training camps, and heavy reductions in many others.

Whacking 12,000 reserve officers off the active duty list.

It was the most drastic military economy move since the reductions at the end of World War II. It is expected, Johnson's office said, to save $200,000,000 between now and next June 30, and $500,000,000 a year thereafter.

Moreover, the reduction was reported to be just a starter.

Johnson is aiming at an additional cut of $1,500,000,000 in the military budget for the next fiscal year which begins July 1, 1950. Even with that pruning and paring, military spending would account for $12,400,000,000 of the national budget. But further deep cuts would be needed to effectuate the $1,500,000,000 saving.

Tells Congress
The defense secretary broke the news to congress members at a gloom ridden conference at his Pentagon building headquarters. Special invitations went out to congressmen whose district would be most directly affected.

Their groans were anguished, keen, and quick. Cut somewhere else, they argued; make the reductions in overseas forces; "fire the flunkies and baby-sitters."

But Johnson told them "he wasn't going to tolerate a 'defense WPA.'" He said he aimed to give the country a dollar's worth of defense for every dollar congress provided for that purpose.

Here and there, a few lawmakers applauded the move, on the theory that saving a million here and a million there soon counts up.

One of these was Senator Byrd (D-Va.), who has been thumping his economy drum for 15 years.

Although navy cuts alone wipe out 2,803 jobs in his home state, Byrd said Johnson's move was great stuff.

"It is the first honest-to-goodness effort that has been made toward reduction in government personnel during the 10 years I have been chairman of the joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures," Byrd said.

The government expects its gold and dollar reserves to sag more than one-fourth by Sept. 30—down to $1,200,000,000—the informant said.

At the end of June Britain was down to her last $1,624,000,000. The treasury's goal had been to keep the reserves at a "safe" margin of $2,000,000,000.

The informant, who refused to be identified, but who is close to the government, said Britain's balance-of-payments position for the current quarter looks "very grim" despite rigid import cuts.

Atlantic Alliance Takes Effect In Capital Ceremony

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—In a simple White House ceremony, the United States today committed itself through the Atlantic pact to resist any attack on western Europe.

Russia was thus confronted with one of history's greatest peace-time combinations of potential military power.

The final steps necessary to bring the 12-nation alliance legally into existence were taken in President Truman's oval office in the presence of Secretary of State Acheson, Defense Secretary Johnson and diplomatic aides, and John Maragon.

The ceremony came from an old wartime buddy of Vaughan's Joe F. Major, who said Vaughan got him his job with the War Assets Administration.

Major said Maragon asked him to write a persuasive letter to a New York firm, asking it to do business with George O. Ragner of Pittsburgh.

Maragon was representing Ragner at the time.

Major said that Maragon told him that Vaughan would sign the letter.

Major, who is from Kansas City, said he served briefly in President Truman's old outfit, Battery "D," and that he now works for the War Assets Administration.

Every since 1918, he said, he has been a close friend of General Vaughan, the president's military aide. Maragon, a onetime Kansas

City shoe shine boy who has become a man-about-Washington, also lists Vaughan as his friend.

Major told the Senate investigation subcommittee that he got two businessmen appointments with James V. Hunt, the Washington management counselor who has been called the "main star" of the five percent injury.

But Major insisted that it was the businessmen's idea, not his, that Hunt would be asked to testify. Hunt may not appear, however. His lawyer has said Hunt is ill, and that an appearance before the committee would impair his health.

Friday—Vaughan
Major said that Maragon came to him a number of times on behalf of clients who wanted to buy surplus property from the government.

And, he said, on one occasion Maragon asked him to draft a letter to Johnson, Drake & Piper, Inc., New York.

This letter described Ragner as president of the construction equipment company of Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow—Either Maragon or Hunt will be asked to testify. Hunt may not appear, however. His lawyer has said Hunt is ill, and that an appearance before the committee would impair his health.

Forest Fires Blaze Out Of Control In Four States

Vaughan Protege Says He Asked Businessmen To Meet With Hunt

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—Senators heard testimony today that again linked the names of Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, the president's military aide, and John Maragon.

Thousands Of Acres Are Laid Bare

By The Associated Press
Forest fires blazed out of control in four states—Idaho, California, Montana and South Dakota—last night (Wednesday).

New fires were kindled by lightning in Idaho's Payette National Forest while haggard firefighters attempted unsuccessfully to control four major fires in the same area. Four large fires and several smaller ones blazed away in Yellowstone Park, Mont.

More than 1,000 firemen saved Telford, S.D. Black Hills' hamlet of 100 population, from destruction today by means of backfires. The blaze was advancing on a 20 mile front only 15 miles north of Rapid City, and the dry sunbaked timber provided ready fuel.

5,000 Acres Of Timber
Clarence Averill, Black Hills forest supervisor, estimated 5,000 acres of timberland and 10,000 acres of grass land had been burned over.

California's San Diego county fire was still spreading and the federal government was sending reinforcements to aid 200 state fire fighters and 600 marines from Camp Pendleton. High temperatures, low humidity and rough terrain made their work difficult, and despite their efforts the fire was only half mile from Cleveland National forest. This and other fires in the country have burned over more than 10,000 acres of timber.

Strong upcanion winds sent another fire, in the Stanislaus National forest in California, out of control on three sides. This fire, one of 118 that plagued the state over the week-end, had burned over more than 2,500 acres and still was not checked.

In other areas of the United States and Canada other fires still were burning, but were reported under control.

The situation was particularly dangerous in Maine, where forest fires two years ago killed 16 persons and caused $30,000,000 in property damage.

Prolonged Drought
Prolonged drought has left timber and brush highly inflammable—a class 4 fire hazard, the forestry commissioner described it. Lively fires were burning in Roxbury and Allagash forests near the Canadian border and in the Plagstaff-Stratton area. The most serious fire, in the Flagstaff area, was reported under control.

In Quebec 10 firefighters had a narrow escape when they were caught in an encircling movement of flames. Twenty homes, a school, and other buildings had been destroyed in the Lotbiniere county area.

The new forest in Idaho were described as potentially dangerous, although not running wild yet. They ranged from small spot fires to two acres in extent.

Seventeen hundred men were fighting the four major Idaho blazes which already have burned over an estimated 17,100 acres.

Little chance was seen of controlling these immediately.

Rains early Wednesday helped check four fires which have burned over 7,600 acres in Yellowstone Park, Mont. The situation here still is serious. The biggest threat is from two comparatively small fires which could get away, Curtis Skinner, chief ranger, said. Each covers about 300 acres north of Yellowstone Lake.

FEW Claims Vote Shows IHC Workers Ready To Strike

Chicago, Aug. 24—(AP)—The CIO United Farm Equipment workers claimed today a vote among 40,000 International Harvester company employees showed them willing to strike to gain their demands.

Officers of the union in Chicago said the vote was "better than five to one" in favor of striking. They did not announce any actual figures on quoting which they said was national.

A company spokesman described the strike vote as routine. He said it is customary to take a poll prior to or during negotiations.

GERMANY NEEDS A STRONGER DEMOCRACY BEFORE WE LEAVE

In their first free election since Hitler took power in 1933, some 24,000,000 Germans in the western zones have voted for parliament members to serve in the new government created under Allied auspices.

Right-wing parties carried the day. Together the Christian Democrats, the leading party in the returns, and the Free Democrats, who ran third, piled up enough seats in the new assembly to dominate it in coalition. The Social Democrats, a strong second, are not far behind this combination.

The non-Communist world observed happily that Communists polled just six per cent of the total vote, as compared with the 10 per cent they registered in the 1946 state elections in Germany.

It was the fourth straight setback for communism at the polls in Europe. This latest shellacking came after defeats in Italy, France and West Berlin.

Naturally there is satisfaction in the mere fact this election was held, for it suggests Germany is back on the road to freedom at last. Anyone must welcome the establishment of postwar self-government there, even though it does not include the Soviet zone.

There is satisfaction also in word that the election generally was orderly, and that a surprisingly large turnout—about 75 per cent of the eligible voters—joined in the balloting.

Yet the conduct of the election campaign in the final 10 days certainly must temper our enthusiasm for an otherwise hopeful event. It was marked by an emotional upsurge of strident nationalism that smacked of Hitlerism all over again. Like many other signs coming out of Germany, it was unfortunate evidence that Germans seem to have changed little since Hitler's heyday.

The outbursts were toned down in the final appeals. But it is hard to shake off the feeling that the earlier thunderings represent the true German sentiment even among the more enlightened party leaders.

Fuel for this notion comes from Thomas Mann, celebrated German author just back from a visit to his homeland. He declares there is real danger from a reviving militaristic nationalism in Germany.

He advises the western powers to give more support than they have to the "honestly democratic forces" of Germany, which he says are in a "dangerous minority."

That is the least we can do. Until genuine democracy grows strong in Germany, the western nations cannot leave this new government or any other German government to its own devices. The free world needs better assurances than it has gained from this election that Germany wants to be a peaceful member of the European fraternity.

Billie Clemmons, 17,
Dies At Hospital As Result Of Injuries

Miss Billie Clemmons, 17, of Orleans, one of three young people injured in an automobile accident in this city on Sunday, Aug. 14, died Wednesday at 11 a. m. at Our Saviour's hospital, where she had been a patient since the accident.

Miss Clemmons suffered multiple injuries when the car in which she was riding failed to make a turn at West Morton and Lincoln avenues, hit a ditch and overturned.

She was not at first thought critically injured, although complications set in, making her condition more serious.

The other three who were involved in the accident are Eural Hoffman of Springfield, driver of the 1939 Ford, and Kenneth Richards and Mary Goveia, both of this city. They were not seriously injured.

Hoffman and Miss Goveia remained at the hospital for a short time. Richards was dismissed following examination.

Miss Clemmons was the daughter of William Leslie and Esther Negus Clemmons and was born in Milton on Nov. 24, 1931.

The remains of Miss Clemmons were removed to the Cody & Son Memorial Home. An inquest will be held there Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at Central Christian church, Rev. R. E. May officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. Leslie Heuston, pastor of Central Christian church. Interment will be in Milton cemetery.

The family will meet friends from 7-9 Thursday evening at the Cody Memorial Home.

Red Cross Still Recruiting Nurses
For Polio Service

An appeal was received by the local Red Cross chapter from National Red Cross headquarters requesting all chapters in the midwestern area continue to recruit nurses for polio victims.

In 14 midwestern states polio victims now need at least 100 more registered nurses at once. This appeal was made by Leona L. Troit, director of nursing service for the Midwestern Red Cross area in St. Louis.

The Red Cross is recruiting nurses at the request of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis, which meets treatment costs where the family's resources are inadequate.

For the past two weeks the Red Cross has been a backlog of more than 100 emergency requests for nurses. These appeals are coming in from 14 states where victims may be saved many of the dreaded aftermaths of polio if prompt nursing care is available.

Although the American Red Cross has obtained 529 polio nurses since July 1, the demand for skilled nursing care is increasing. These demands are particularly heavy from Missouri, Iowa and Illinois. Retired or married nurses or those whose employers can release them are urged to call local Red Cross chapters for enlistment. Married nurses with children can, for example, enlist for general ward duty in hospitals, thus relieving other nurses for polio duty.

The National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis and the American Red Cross are determined to furnish only the best possible nursing care to polio patients whose recovery might be impeded by inexperienced nursing. It is not their intention to take nurses away from jobs or homes where they are needed. The nurses desired are those who are not working at their profession and those whose employers are willing to release them for two or three months. The Red Cross is urging all nurses wherever possible to contact their local Red Cross chapters and enlist their services during this polio emergency.

But this is his story. Let him tell it.

"One night a young lady and I found we had seen all the shows we wanted to see and done all the things New Yorkers are expected to do. We were in the mood for something unusual.

"On an impulse, we opened the phone book and ran down the listings until we came to something interesting.

"It was"—Rodgers smiled at the memory—"the Chinese musical and theatrical association.

"We called them up and they were very pleasant. They invited us to come and see them. We did. And we had a wonderful time listening to that weird music."

Rodgers and the lady, whose name he lacks Breckenridge, have not lacked adventure since that night.

Among other things, he has found himself.

Sitting in with Chinese musicians who were making the night hideous (to western ears) with strange instruments like the hi-K'in and the Yang-Ch'in.

Dining with New York's homeless, hopeless men at the Municipal lodging house.

Helping dispatch tugboats in the New York harbor.

Watching a strange dance in which Albanian men plaster dollar bills on the foreheads of Albanian women. (He still hasn't figured out the story behind that one.)

Rodgers is a cheerful, pink-faced man with thinning grayish hair and humorous wrinkles at the corners of his eyes.

Looks Like Teacher

He doesn't look especially like an adventure-hunter. He looks more like a teacher, which he is. He heads the physical education department of Thomas Jefferson high school in Brooklyn.

But this is his story. Let him tell it.

"MELODY ANN" TO COMPETE IN HORSE SHOW

Miss Ann Dirksen, well known Springfield horsewoman, has entered her three-gaited mare, "Melody Ann," in the Jacksonville horse show to be held Sept. 4 and 5 at the Morgan County fair grounds. The five year old bay mare is one of many fine horses which will compete in the show. "Melody Ann" has appeared in a large number of show rings with outstanding success. The Jacksonville horse show, featuring afternoon and evening performances on both days, is sponsored by the Jacksonville Saddle Club and Morgan County Agricultural Fair Association.

Where To Find Thrills: In Your 'Phone Book

By Ed Creagh
(For Hal Boyle)

New York, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Adventure is where you find it.

And if that's an old saw, a man named Martin Rodgers has given it new sharpening. He looks for—and finds—adventure in the telephone book.

In the past two years Rodgers, uncle of "South Pacific" composer Richard Rodgers, has thumbed the Manhattan directory from a to Zzyzz, Inc., with sometimes startling results.

Among other things, he has found himself.

Sitting in with Chinese musicians who were making the night hideous (to western ears) with strange instruments like the hi-K'in and the Yang-Ch'in.

Dining with New York's homeless, hopeless men at the Municipal lodging house.

Helping dispatch tugboats in the New York harbor.

Watching a strange dance in which Albanian men plaster dollar bills on the foreheads of Albanian women. (He still hasn't figured out the story behind that one.)

Rodgers is a cheerful, pink-faced man with thinning grayish hair and humorous wrinkles at the corners of his eyes.

Looks Like Teacher

He doesn't look especially like an adventure-hunter. He looks more like a teacher, which he is. He heads the physical education department of Thomas Jefferson high school in Brooklyn.

But this is his story. Let him tell it.

"One night a young lady and I found we had seen all the shows we wanted to see and done all the things New Yorkers are expected to do. We were in the mood for something unusual.

"On an impulse, we opened the phone book and ran down the listings until we came to something interesting.

"It was"—Rodgers smiled at the memory—"the Chinese musical and theatrical association.

"We called them up and they were very pleasant. They invited us to come and see them. We did. And we had a wonderful time listening to that weird music."

Rodgers and the lady, whose name he lacks Breckenridge, have not lacked adventure since that night.

Temperatures of 10 to 180 degrees have been taken in the sun along the coast of the Persian Gulf in southern Iran, but these are unofficial records since official records must be taken in sheltered and ventilated locations.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

If They're Wild, They Belong To Tik!

Saw Tik Anderson last week and was reminded of the first time I ever spoke to him. The missus had sent me out one Saturday afternoon to hunt for some blackberries.

I took a long hike and couldn't find any. Finally, I came to Tik's house along that low stretch east of the fork on River Road. "Hi there," I says, "any blackberries around here?"

Tik says, "There used to be—but I don't know much about things that grow wild." Later, I found how Tik supports his family by picking berries. Ever since, I've been like the rest of folks in town—respectful of his right not to tell where "his" berries grow.

From where I sit, respecting other folks' rights comes natural in our town... in America for that matter. Whether it's a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale, or whether it's Tik Anderson's right to keep secret where his berries are, it's all a big part of a real democracy!

Former Jacksonville Man Stabbed Fatally In Springfield Hotel

Leon Wiley, colored, a former Jacksonville resident, was stabbed to death early Wednesday morning at a Springfield hotel. He was found dying in a parked automobile a block from where the stabbing occurred.

Springfield police said Theodore Draper, 24 year old Springfield negro, admitted stabbing Wiley with a butcher knife. Wiley was 27 years old, and resided in Jacksonville for some time before going to Springfield where his mother, Mrs. Viola McDaniel, lives at 1434 East Madison street.

Detective Chief Fred Doerfler of the Springfield police department quoted Draper as saying that he knifed Wiley after finding him in a room at the Dudley hotel with Mrs. Draper.

Wiley ran from the hotel in his underclothing after the attack. He was found in a car on North 12th street near Adams street, and was taken to St. John's hospital where he died within a short time.

Draper was placed under arrest at the home of his mother, 335 North 15th Place.

Springfield police said Wiley's mother was expected to file a murder charge against Draper.

Local residents recalled that Wiley once lived in this city but said he has been making his home at Springfield recently.

OWNER OF THE CONNIE SHOP

Martin Newman, owner of the new Connie Shop, has been in business in Jacksonville for more than six years.

He and his wife have made their home here since 1943. They have two children and reside at 1203 W. Chambers.

In their six years in this city Mr. and Mrs. Newman have made many friends here and in the vicinity.

Mr. Newman has been in the shoe business since 1936.

KENNETH CANNON, Manager

Kenneth Cannon, manager of the new Connie Shop, has been a Jacksonville resident all his life. He was born and reared in this city. He graduated from Rount high school with the class of 1941 and in 1943 entered the armed forces, serving in the Marine Corps until 1946. He was overseas for two years.

Mr. Cannon is married and has one son, Jeffery. He and his family reside at 850 South Main street.

Mr. Cannon has had considerable experience in shoe business and says he is now in a position where he can give all his friends and customers the best buys in shoes in town.

ASSISTANT MANAGER

Assistant manager of the new Connie Shop is Bob Sandberg, who like the manager, has been a life-long resident of this city.

Bob attended schools in Jacksonville and during the war served with the 1st Infantry Division of the U. S. Army in the European theatre for more than 21 years. He was honorably discharged from the armed services in 1945.

He is married and has two children, Mary Janet and Richard Gale.

New Connie Shoe Store To Feature Shoes For Women And Children

Every fashion-conscious woman in Jacksonville will be interested in the new Connie Shop—a recently erected store devoted entirely to women's and children's shoes—located at northwest corner of the square in the Douglas Hotel building, which will hold its formal opening Thursday, August 25th.

Mr. Kenneth Cannon, who will manage the Connie Shop, is well-known to the people of Jacksonville. His 5 years of experience in the retail shoe business includes every phase of buying, merchandising and distribution of style footwear.

It has been said that the new Connie Shop is one of the finest examples of contemporary store architecture in this section of Illinois. The exterior, of structural glass with blond wood trim, has 2 large plate glass windows flanking a heavy plate glass entrance. Shadowless fluorescent strip lighting, in the windows and all departments, is a triumph of light engineering. The interior is arranged to provide the most effective backgrounds for merchandise and for the utmost comfort and convenience of the shopper.

The interior walls are tinted in soft shades of green and chartreuse, with a harmonizing floor of green and ivory asphalt tile. The furniture is of blonde wood, upholstered in grey and yellow leather. Plate glass mirrors, shadow box displays all make effective contribution to the beauty of the store.

The women's Shoe Salon, will offer popular-priced footwear under the nationally advertised names of Connie Shoe Creations, Connie loafers and Sports, Paris Fashion Fifth Avenue Styles and Paris Fashion Sports and Casuals. These lines appear consistently in the advertising and editorial pages of Vogue, McCall's, Glamour, Good Housekeeping, Charm, Seventeen, Silver Screen and Screenland.

The Children's Department at the Connie Shop will sponsor Robin Hood Shoes . . . nationally known classic styles for girls and boys . . . from infants to teenagers. Expert X-Ray fitting is one of the featured services of this department.

Mr. Cannon, the manager, is enthusiastic about Autumn shoe styles. In a recent interview he commented briefly on fashion trends:

"Brown is almost as important as black in the Fall picture, with suede leading, closely followed by smooth leathers. We are expecting a great interest in Winter navy and dark wine red for dress wear as the season advances.

"Color—such as cherry red, forest green, golden camel, cognac brown and admiral blue—continues to be important in casual shoes of both smooth leather and ruffie suede, especially of the crepe-soled variety.

"Heel-heights and materials key the costume. A complete shoe wardrobe enables a girl or woman to maintain a smart appearance with the simplest and fewest of basic dresses or suits."

Richard Allan in Dancing Scenes Of New Movie

Richard Allan, a Jacksonville young man now in Hollywood, appears in two scenes of "Neptune's Daughter," which will be shown beginning Sunday at the Illinois theater. The film stars Esther Williams.

Allan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan of Riggsport, dances in the water ballet scenes of the movie. He is a talented singer as well as dancer, and has been engaged in theatrical work several years since graduating from high school.

Since going to Hollywood, Allan served as "dance-in" for Gene Kelly in "On The Town," and at present is making scenes in "Wabash Avenue," starring Betty Grable.

He is taking dramatic lessons in preparation for an acting career along with dancing.

C. Of C. Will Resist Move Of Wabash To Discontinue Trains

Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce directors voted unanimously at their August board meeting Tuesday to go on record as opposed to the petition of the Wabash railroad to discontinue trains 2 and 3, operating through this city between Decatur and Hannibal.

A special committee will be named to attend the hearing before the Commerce Commission on Sept. 7, and to enlist the support of other communities served by the line. City officials have already approved similar action, and Chamber of Commerce members will join them in voicing opposition to the proposal.

Directors also approved a plan to separate management of the Morgan County Fair Association from the C. of C. office. Fair Association business for three years has been handled by C. of C. staff on cost basis. As was pointed out, the Fair Association is now in a sound financial position, and should now be counted as a completed project as far as the Chamber is concerned.

Direction of the Fair activities will be carried on by volunteer workers selected from the Fair Association membership. President Waldo McGreevy of the Chamber praised Fair Association officers for their fine work to date, and pledged continued support from the Chamber if and when needed.

Reports On Elm Disease
John T. Hackett reported to the board that a special committee which he heads to study the problem of preventing the spread of the elm tree disease, Phloem Necrosis, has accumulated much information on the subject, but as yet has been unable to establish a satisfactory plan of prevention. He stated that his committee had detected no positive evidence that the disease had attacked local trees, but that the committee was working toward a good preventative program if and when it becomes needed. Thousands of trees have been killed by this disease in many Illinois cities during the past year.

The board gave initial impetus to several new projects. Housing, a business-industry-education conference, and a possible Farm Day were among matters considered and referred to committees for study. A membership campaign to be held in September also received board approval.

The board approved appointment of six new committees to carry out plans discussed at the Tuesday meeting. Committees named are retail, industrial, civic affairs, agricultural, transportation and membership.

Ralph Steele, Jr. Flight Chief at Texas Air Base

Ralph Steele, Jr., 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steele, 306 East Independence avenue, has met with good fortune twice since arriving at Lackland air base, San Antonio, Texas.

Steele was named as flight chief within a few weeks after arriving at the air base for training. To top off his good luck, he was selected for the air base football squad, having been one of 10 men picked from 20,000 to join the squad.

Steele, who attended Jacksonville High school and played football, is six feet one inch tall and weighs 215 pounds. He enlisted in the Army Air Force about two months ago.

New York Stock Market

New York, Aug. 24.—(P)—A slow rally started rolling in the stock market today following yesterday's sinking spell.

The recovery move was a little on the shaky side but an increasing number of leading issues either re-couped morning losses or extended earlier gains.

Higher prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Packard, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, J. I. Case and National Distillers.

Balky spots included General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck and Douglas Aircraft.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

WHEAT, SOYBEANS DROP; REST STEADY

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(P)—Wheat and soybeans dropped a cent or more on the Board of Trade today. The rest of the market held steady. Activity again was light.
Selling pressure against wheat was not heavy. But it was enough to give the grain a weak tone in the absence of commercial demand. Flour business remained dull. There appeared to be little government wheat buying.
Part of the selling in soybeans was profit-taking. Lower prices for some vegetable oils caused the liquidation. Receipts were: wheat 7 cars, corn 65, oats 25, rye 1, barley 19, soybeans 10.
Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, September $2.01 1/2, corn was 1/2 to 1 cent higher, September $1.23 1/2, oats were 1/4 higher, September 66 1/2, rye was 1/4 higher, September $1.45, soybeans were 1/2 to 1 cent lower, November $2.44 1/2, and lard was 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.60.
One hundred fourteen thousand tons of spinach were shipped fresh to markets in the United States in 1948.

Youngest Channel Swimmer Is Toast Of British Isles

Dover England Aug. 24—(P)—Eighteen-year-old Philip Mickman was the toast of Britain tonight for his dogged battle in becoming the youngest swimmer ever to conquer the English channel.

The Yorkshire youth's title "only swimmer to cross the channel this year" was made secure for at least a few more hours when Jose Cortinas 32-year-old Cuban clothing salesman gave up tonight after being in the water nine hours and 20 minutes.

Cortinas, who got more than half way across in less than six hours last Thursday, had entered the water at Cap Gris Nez, France, just 52 minutes after Mickman touched bottom at Kingsdown, England. Cortinas was within five miles of England when he had to give up because of the cold. He said he would not try again.

Cortinas' wife, Elda, said the Cuban had two leg cramps after six hours' swimming and could use only his arms the last three hours. Mickman's swim across the 20 miles of water took 23 hours and 46 minutes, slower time ever from the French side, and second slowest in history in either direction.

Tigers Blast Yankees 13 To 2

Detroit, Aug. 24—(P)—Outfielder Vic Wertz belted two home runs—one of them a grand slam wallop—as he and pitcher Art Houtteman combined their talents to give the Detroit Tigers a 13-2 decision over the New York Yankees today.

Three Yankee pitchers gave up 13 walks and Wertz's two homers drove home four of those Tigers who were given bases on balls.

The victory gave the Tigers a sweep of the abbreviated two game series and left them with an 11-9 season mark over the league leading New Yorkers. The Detroiters incidentally are the only club to hold a season margin over the Yankees. Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees, who was wailing only yesterday about the wildness of his pitchers in recent days, had more cause to weep today.

Lefty Tommy Byrne, who had beaten the Tigers four times this year while losing the decision to them, started for the Yankees but proved no mystery. New York .000 000 020—2 10 0 Detroit .005 010 433—13 9 0 Byrne, Sanford (3), Marshall (7) and Silveira, Niarhos (7); Houtteman and Swift. HRRS: New York—Mapes; Detroit—Wertz (2).

Athletic Hurler Out For A Week

Chicago, Aug. 24—(P)—Joe Coleman Philadelphia Athletics' pitcher who sprained a tendon in his right shoulder pitching here last night, will be sidelined from five days to a week resting the injury. Coleman suffered the injury pitching a single to Chicago's Floyd Baker in the eighth inning of his No. 12 victory.

Cards of Thanks

We both wish to thank everyone who sent cards and lovely gifts for our 25th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dickinson.

Brooklyn, Aug. 24—(P)—Big Don Newcombe overpowered the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-0, today to lift the Brooklyn Dodgers into the thick of the National league race again. To cap off his brilliant six-hit shutout, Newcombe cracked out a three-run double in the eighth.

The Dodgers' victory cut the Cardinals' National league lead to a single game, as against the two game lead they held when they came to town yesterday. In winning the series, 2-1, the Dodgers for the first time this year came out on top of their arch-rivals.

Newcombe now has won 12 games against six losses. Despite the fact Carl Furillo, Roy Campanella, and Ed Hodges all hit homers with the bases empty, it was Newcombe's day. He held Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter to one hit each. He permitted only one man to reach third.

Al Brazle, who has beaten the Dodgers twice this season, did not have it. Lou Klein pinch hit for him in the seventh, and Carl Furillo made a great running catch of his low smash.

Defensive honors, however, went to Luis Olmo, the redeemed Mexican league jumper. On this occasion he did his jumping straight up—and snared a terrific drive by Musial in the fifth with two on, right under the 351 foot sign.

For a time it looked as if there wouldn't be any ball game. After a scoreless first inning, a torrent of rain fell. The field was covered and the crowd of 24,400 took shelter. But after a delay of 53 minutes, play was resumed and the sun came out.

New York, Aug. 24—(P)—Westrum hit two homers and Sid Gordon blasted his 25th of the year as the New York Giants downed the Chicago Cubs, 5-3, today before a sparse crowd of 2,612 paid.

Right hander Sheldon Jones won his 10th game of the year and his third over the Cubs. All the Cub runs were as a result of homers by Phil Cavarretta and pinch-hitter Frank Baumholtz.

Westrum struck his first homer in the fourth inning with Bill Rigney aboard. His second was a solo effort in the eighth.

Coca Cola, Jr., Stoners Win In Jr. League Playoff

In the Junior Softball League playoffs at the Southside park last night the Coca Cola Jr., defeated the Trinity club 19 to 14 to take the National League title, and in the second game the Stoners crew beat the Amvets 7 to 5 to take the American League title.

The first game was a free slugging affair, but the Cokes played a better game on the field to take the victory.

The nightcap was a tamer game, and fewer errors were committed on both sides.

The Jacksonville Recreational club presented trophies to the first and second teams in each league at the close of the games.

Americans Urged

To Do More Fresh

Water Fishing

Lake Success, N. Y., Aug. 24—(P)—Americans, who already spend more than $1,000,000,000 a year on hooks, lines and sinkers, were urged today to do even more fresh water fishing.

O. Lloyd Meehan, of the U. S. Interior department's fish and wildlife service, braved the wrath of fishermen's wives in a paper read to the United Nations scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources.

Furthermore, he called on the whole machinery of federal, state and local conservation officials to support him.

Steps to the Moon

By Adelaide Humphries

THE STORY: Expected by her family to marry wealthy Barry Bainbridge, Gaynel Fears has not yet made a decision because she is also quite fond of Fritz Freymann, a young newspaperman. Gaynel is the youngest of her family consisting of Emily, her widowed mother, brother Danny and younger sister Pat. Emily, whose varied enthusiasm change so frequently, that Gaynel calls them "limericks," has just sponsored Little Theater play and now at Barry's invitation, she, the rest, Gaynel and Pat are vacationing on Barry's yacht off Mackinac Island. Then Pat is suddenly taken quite ill and Gaynel realizes it is appendicitis.
XV
AFTER Gaynel had taken care of her sister Pat, she thought it safe to leave her a moment. The pain must be terrible. Something would have to be done at once. "Lie as quiet as you can, honey," she whispered. She must not let Pat see now afraid she was. "I'll be right back." She would get Barry aside. No use alarming the others. Emily would have a case of nerves; the rest would be of no actual help. Thank God, there was Barry. He would know what to do. He was always there to go to, depend on. Pat's groans, increasing in volume and frequency now, followed her as she ran.
Barry said, "I'll go over to the Island right away. I'll go myself. There must be a doctor stopping at the hotel." He took her two hands in his, squeezed them tightly, as though to give her the confidence he felt. "Meanwhile, don't you worry. Tell the others I've gone to make arrangements for the dinner. Get Francis to send you plenty of ice and towels. We'll do everything for Pat there is to be done, if it's as bad as you fear, Gaynel."
It was every bit that bad. The doctor Barry brought back in what seemed like an eternity to Gaynel as she fixed and changed ice packs, said there was no question that it was the appendix. An acute attack. An immediate operation was absolutely urgent. Or he could not guarantee the consequences.

"You mean... it's got to come out—there's nothing else we can do?" Gaynel tried to hold her voice steady. They had gone outside the stateroom. Barry had got Miss Cupples to come stay with Pat. The others would have to know pretty soon. First she and Barry must decide what was to be done.
THE doctor said that was the situation. The appendix might burst.
"We'll not take any such chance." It was easy to decide that much. "If only Doctor Carle could operate. He understands Pat's condition. He's such a wonderful surgeon."
"The best will be none too good." The doctor's tone was gravely significant.
"You mean you can't do it?" Gaynel's eyes widened with fear. "That there's no one on the Island... no hospital we could reach... Oh, Barry, what shall we do?" She turned to him, grasped his sleeve as though for support; she felt, in fact, as though she were faint. This was much more than she had counted on, been prepared to meet.
"Then that's what we'll have," Barry made this decision. "The best. I'll radio for a Coast Guard amphibian, or if we can't get that, a private one. Another radio to Doctor Carle will take care of the rest."
"Oh, Barry." She could not thank him. She clung to him. She might have known he would not fail her, ever. There was no one like him.
"Run along and get ready." He gave her a little push, gently; his eyes saying he did not expect thanks. "You'll want to go with her, of course. Leave everything else to me, my dear."
Pat was sleeping; the doctor had given her something to deaden the pain. Her hair was all awry; the scarlet lips drawn and pinched; the sweet young face so still and white. She looked as she might look in death. Gaynel dropped by her side, buried her head for a moment, shaking with sobs she tried in vain to suppress. Her little sister... if anything happened to her... Oh, she could not bear it... could not bear even the possibility of such a thought.
BARRY sent word the amphibian could make it in less than an hour. A radio had been received it was on its way; they had been fortunate in reaching the Coast Guard. The hospital had been reached, too; Doctor Carle would have everything in readiness.
Gaynel shed her shorts, got into some clothes, packed a bag. She would sit by Pat now; she was beginning to stir and strike out blindly and murmur short incoherent phrases.
Miss Cupples had another patient: Emily had collapsed when Barry had broken the news to her. Gaynel would have to see this through alone.
Not alone, either, it seemed. After the big plane had been set down by the side of the yacht and Pat had been lowered in the dory by the davits and Gaynel prepared to climb in, too. She turned first to give her hand to Barry, to try once more to express the deep gratitude she felt. She said, "Good-by—and thanks," trying to smile for him the best she could, to show him the things in her heart that could not be put into words just then.
He smiled back at her and said, "But it isn't goodbye. Did you think I'd let you go alone? You should know better than that, Gaynel."
She wondered in that moment how she could doubt that she loved him. She ought to know that, too. What a fool she was! As soon as Pat got through this... was well again, she would give Barry the answer he wanted.

DEPLETES DEFORMED FEET OF WOMEN
Liverpool, England — (AP) — The president-elect of the British Medical Association said today 90 per cent of British women are deforming their feet by poor choice of shoes.
Professor R. P. McMurray told the Liverpool Rotary Club: "Nature in- tended woman's big toe to be on the inside of her foot. But she buys shoes in which the point of the shoe is in the middle of her foot."
"When husbands mention this they are told to mind their own business."
The tuna fish reaches a length of 10 feet and a weight of 1500 pounds.

Says Excise Taxes On Liquor Raises Price Too High

Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 24—(P)—John L. Leban, president of Schenley Distillers, Inc., said today that present high liquor taxes are a "threat to the industry and to public revenues."

Speaking at the annual convention of the Illinois Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association here, Leban described the liquor industry as a "useful, employment-making, tax-paying good citizen in the American industrial family."

"It currently is being treated like a red-headed step-child, saddled with taxes that put our products beyond the reach of the people," he said.

The government has increased the federal excise tax on liquor by 718 per cent since prohibition repeal, he said.

(In two days of feverish activity in Canton, Chiang appears to have thrown off all pretense of retirement and gain seems to be actively directing the civil war. He retired last year in favor of Li Tsung-shan, who still is acting president of China.)

The warlords of Szechwan province, in which Chungking is located, are known to be eager to keep their domains intact, even at the cost of an understanding with the Reds to remain neutral in the civil war.

They have quarreled with Gen. Chang Chun, commander in the southwest, and there are rumors Chang wants to resign. Chiang wants him to stay on the job.
